This chalet perfectly represents the Savoyard style of construction, with a traditional dwelling composed mainly of wood of different species. Once inside the chalet, you can fully feel the warmth and authenticity of the place. The wood matches perfectly with the red fabrics present in the vast living room as well as the thick white furs.

Large bay windows, but also velux are present in all the rooms of the chalet which gives an excellent luminosity. The two balconies of the chalet enjoy a beautiful exposure, nothing better to enjoy an aperitif in full sun, while admiring the panoramic view of the surrounding mountains.

Four bedrooms make up the chalet, including 3 bedrooms with double beds and a children bedroom with a bunk bed. You can stay with six adults and two children in the greatest comfort.

Chalet is therefore the ideal place for a family looking for a home with character, a prime location, all while enjoying the calm and surrounding nature.
