Chalet in Méribel,
French Alps,
France

12 guests · 6 bedrooms · 6 bathrooms · 930 sqm

With a clear view of the Saulire summit, Chalet fits perfectly with its surroundings. With its traditional wooden façade, long balconies and stone foundations, it has all the features of an authentic mountain chalet. Inside, the vintage design scheme ensures the chalet is as stylish as it is comfortable. Every room features some combination of soothing colours, raw oak and natural stone, creating a warm, refined atmosphere. Inspired by Scandinavian traditions and 1950s cool, the furniture is all about cool, crisp lines. Throughout the chalet, modern comfort and retro chic go hand-in-hand: a copper bathtub is paired with a contemporary shower, while a sheepskin rug lies in front of the super-modern fireplace.

After a long day on the slopes, it's always a pleasure to relax and unwind in the steam room. Or else keep in shape on the indoor climbing wall, getting ready for next season. Out on the veranda, admire the valley view through the steam rising from the heated pool and sauna. In the morning, grab your skis and take the short walk over to the Doron lift. Later on, head into the village for truffle crozets at the Ekrin restaurant, and a chance to sample Méribel's famous nightlife.
